

TEAMWEAR

2021 Edition

You wear it, even when you're not wearing it.

In this kit, you're part of the team. A kit makes it more than a casual kick around. A kit makes it official. A kit makes it real.

A KIT MAKES IT REAL

When you've got a kit, it means you belong.
You're part of a community. A family.
You're not just a ringer or a last-minute replacement.
You're a fully fledged member of the club.

When you've got a kit – it becomes a part of you.
It's your identity. Your armour.
It says who you are and what you represent.
You wear it, even when you're not wearing it.
In this kit, you're part of the team.

A kit makes it more than a casual kick around.
A kit makes it official. A kit makes it real.

ENDING PLASTIC WASTE

There is a ton of plastic for every person on planet Earth, with nearly 80% of it being waste. Something has to be done to fix this huge problem that threatens our existence.

We all have to play our part – including adidas, which is committed to ending plastic waste, through innovation and our partnerships with the likes of Stella McCartney, the International Space Station and Parley for the Oceans.

PLASTIC IS A DESIGN FAILURE

Cyrill Gutsch, founder of adidas partner Parley for the Oceans describes plastic as a design failure, because it's not meant to end up in animals' stomachs and at the end of the human food chain. Parley for the Oceans has a strategy called AIR, which is about people Avoiding plastic whenever possible; Intercepting plastic and pollution; and then Redesigning the materials that are the source of the problem.

In addition to working alongside adidas, Parley for the Oceans has also partnered with small island states such as the Maldives, to tackle plastic that has been dumped in the ocean. The Parley Maldives project works directly with local groups and island communities to strengthen existing conservation efforts and introduce new programs, where necessary. It is currently focused on implementing the Parley AIR Strategy.

THREE LOOP STRATEGY

As part of our commitment to end plastic waste, adidas has adopted a Three Loop Strategy, focusing on creating three categories of sustainable products. Recycled Loop products are made from recycled materials; Circular Loop products have a lifecycle after each use (the Futurecraft Loop running shoe, for example); and Bionic Loop reflects the ambition of adidas to create a future where every one of its products can have multiple lives before returning to nature.

As part of our mission to end plastic waste, all of these more sustainable products will meet, or even exceed, all the elite performance standards that our customers have come to expect.

PERFORMANCE FABRICS

One of the ways that we can start tackling the plastic problem is by using recycled materials in the fabrics adidas uses. As a result, we have launched two new sustainable performance fabrics, called PrimeBlue and PrimeGreen.

PrimeBlue is a high-performance yarn made with 50% Parley ocean plastic – upcycled plastic waste intercepted on shorelines and coastal areas, preventing it from polluting our oceans.

PrimeGreen is made with a series of high-performance recycled materials and represents our commitment to phase out all virgin polyester by 2024 to help end plastic waste.

This is good news for your team's new kit, with all new adidas Teamwear lines being made with either PrimeBlue or PrimeGreen fabrics. This means you can benefit from pioneering sustainability initiatives and play your matches in the knowledge that you are playing your part in helping to end plastic waste.
